Christian greetings in the precious name of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ!

As we celebrate eighty years of God's faithfulness, we pause to give Him glory for leading the Northeastern Conference from its humble beginnings to the thriving, mission-driven organization it is today. Our journey has been shaped by enduring faith, sacrificial service, and the steadfast prayers of countless believers who dared to believe that God would do great things through His people.

We stand on the shoulders of pioneers, leaders, pastors, educators, and members, who labored with vision and courage. Their devotion laid the foundation upon which we continue to build. To our current workers, members, and partners in ministry, thank you for carrying the torch with faithfulness and excellence.

As we look to the future, may we continue to ELEVATE our mission: lifting Christ before the world, empowering our communities, and equipping future generations to lead with integrity and compassion. With gratitude for the past and hope for the future, we move forward, confident that the God who began this good work will bring it to completion.

To God be the glory!

Greetings from the Atlantic Union Conference On the Occasion of the Northeastern Conference's 80th Anniversary and Honors Gala

Dear Northeastern Conference Family,

Warm greetings in the name of our Lord and soon-coming King, Jesus Christ. On behalf of the officers, departmental directors, and staff of the Atlantic Union Conference, we extend heartfelt congratulations to the Northeastern Conference of Seventh-day Adventists as you celebrate your 80th Anniversary and Honors Gala.

From humble beginnings in 1945, when a faithful group of believers in the northeastern region of the United States sought to organize and strengthen the mission of the church, the Northeastern Conference has stood as a living testimony to God's sustaining power. Through seasons of challenge and triumph, the hand of the Lord has led this Conference to astonishing growth spiritually, and numerically.

Today, we praise God for the vision and faith of the pioneers who laid the foundation, for the pastors and administrators who have led with wisdom and courage, and for the thousands of devoted members who have faithfully advanced the mission of proclaiming the everlasting gospel.

Eighty years later, the Northeastern Conference continues to shine as a light of hope and a pillar of Holy Spirit-anointed influence within the Atlantic Union and beyond. Your evangelism, education, and community service, among many other initiatives, stand as a powerful witness that, truly, "the Lord hath done great things for us; whereof we are glad" (Psalm 126:3).

As you commemorate this historic achievement, may you be inspired to look back with gratitude, stand firm in faith, and move forward with renewed dedication to the mission of preparing a people for the soon return of our Lord. As Ellen G. White reminds us, "We have nothing to fear for the future, except as we shall forget the way the Lord has led us, and His teaching in our past history." (Life Sketches, p.196).

Congratulations, Northeastern Conference Administration and family. May God continue to bless and prosper your ministry for His glory.

Yours in Christ,

Message from 80th Anniversary Chairperson

Undoubtedly, the observance of this milestone anniversary has stirred both nostalgia and gratitude throughout our conference—emotions too rich and too many to fully capture. Yet one golden thread runs through them all: God has proven Himself faithful. From our fledgling beginnings to our broad and vibrant presence today—from one metropolis to another—the Northeastern Conference stands as a living testimony to divine favor.

This year, our Eightieth Anniversary Committee immersed itself in the remarkable story of our conference. Along the way, forgotten struggles resurfaced, and past victories rekindled hope in what God can still do. We have been reminded that our history is not only inspiring, but continually shaped by the faith, labor, and love of countless individuals who give their best for the sake of God's Kingdom.

The late novelist, Alex Haley, once kept a painting in his office of a turtle sitting on a fence. When asked about it, he would say, "If you ever see a turtle sitting on a fence, you should know it had some help getting up there." That image beautifully illustrates a powerful truth: our achievements today are built on the sacrifice, service, and steadfastness of those who came before us—those who gave without seeking reward, and who faithfully nurtured a sense of mission in the generations that followed. The celebration of our story, therefore, must include the people who made our story possible.

And so, on behalf of a grateful committee, I join our Conference Administration in congratulating eighty of our fellow constituents honored during our Eightieth Anniversary & Honors Gala. Thank you for your unwavering commitment to mission. I pray that all who follow shall find you just as faithful as we do today!

With Gratitude,

Dr. Keith A. Albury

Our History

The Northeastern Conference of Seventh-day Adventists was founded through faith, courage, and a deep desire for equality and mission. Its story begins in 1944, when Black Adventists across the United States called for the right to lead and manage their own churches. After many years of prayer and persistence, the General Conference voted to allow the creation of "regional conferences".

That same year, on October 3–4, 1944, delegates from Black churches across the Atlantic Union gathered at City Temple Church in Manhattan, New York. They voted to organize the Northeastern Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, which officially began operations on January 1, 1945, with fifteen churches and about 2,200 members. Its first president was Pastor Louis H. Bland, a gifted preacher and organizer who laid the foundation for the new field.

As the years passed, strong leaders guided the Conference through growth, challenges, and triumphs:

- Louis H. Bland (1945–1953) – The founding president who organized the first churches and strengthened the conference's spiritual and financial base.
- Harold O. Sing (1953-1962) – Purchased the land in Hyde Park, New York, that became Camp Victory Lake, the Conference's beloved campgrounds.
- R. T. Hudson (1962–1966) – Known for powerful evangelism and community activism, especially in Harlem.
- George R. Earle (1966–1985) – Oversaw remarkable expansion, including the construction of the Conference headquarters in Queens, Northeastern Academy, and the Victory Lake Nursing Home.
- Leonard G. Newton (1985–1988) – Focused on stewardship and rebuilding facilities at Camp Victory Lake.
- Stennett H. Brooks (1988–2000) – A skilled financial leader who championed evangelism, opened new churches, and strengthened community ministries.
- Donald G. King (2000–2002) – Modernized operations, held town hall meetings across the field, and later became President of the Atlantic Union Conference.
- Trevor H. C. Baker (2002–2016) – Guided the Conference through serious financial challenges, restoring stability and growth while expanding evangelism.

- Daniel L. Honoré (2016–2021) – Promoted diversity, broadened the conference's property portfolio, led the conference through the COVID-19 pandemic, and cleared up financial deficits.

- Abraham J. Jules (2021–2024) – Strengthened pastoral support, reset the education system, oversaw Camp Victory Lake development, emphasized fiscal responsibility, and inspired renewed focus on evangelism.

- Eldeen C. King (2024–present) – The current president has been leading the Conference into a new visionary era of innovation in Evangelism, Education, and Empowerment.

From its humble beginnings in Harlem to a thriving community of tens of thousands across New York and New England, the Northeastern Conference continues to shine as a light of hope and faith. Its members, representing the Caribbean, Africa, North America, and beyond, serve together to share the everlasting gospel.

For eighty years, the Northeastern Conference has stood as a witness to God's providence and the power of His people united in mission. Space cannot contain the stories, sacrifices, and steadfast witness of the countless men and women whose hands and hearts have shaped the growth and glory of this Conference. The executive secretaries, treasurers, departmental directors, office support staff, teachers, evangelists, Bible instructors, local church leaders, and all members. Their names may not all be listed here, but their contributions and legacies are etched in eternity.

Though times have changed, the mission of the Northeastern Conference still beats with the same divine rhythm: "To make disciples of Jesus Christ and prepare a people for His soon return."

This God-directed story of the Northeastern Conference is not yet finished; it continues to unfold with every act of service, every prayer, every soul won for the kingdom. The heritage of faith and perseverance stretches behind us like a golden thread, yet it also calls us forward toward greater victories of grace.

The story of the Northeastern Conference is still being written, and indeed, the best is yet to come.

Sis. Veronica Hercules

Sis Veronica Hercules is a phenomenal Christian woman. Her life embodies strength, faithfulness and dedication to her God, family and friends. Sis Hercules loves the Lord and is deeply committed to her church. She is a loving, devoted, and caring parent who cherishes her family, friends and even those who may not be friendly. As Head Deaconess, she is always ready to do her part in the maintenance of the physical facility as well as identifying, responding and satisfying the needs of our vulnerable members. Her willingness to give support to requests that may not be formally part of her purview, is unmatched. Sis Hercules takes her role as Head Deaconess seriously and seeks to perform the associated tasks with a fierce determination to make the House of God the most habitable place for members and visitors to worship our Great God. She pursues excellence in service for herself and other team members in the performance of tasks associated with the rituals and activities of the church. She exudes a high degree of pleasure serving the Lord in her role and being a member of God's church. In her humility, she would assert, as the Psalmist, " I'd rather be a doorkeeper in the house of the Lord".

80TH ANNIVERSARY HONORS GALA

In commemorating this historic achievement, may you be inspired to look back with gratitude, stand firm in faith, and move forward with renewed dedication to the mission of preparing a people for the soon return of our Lord.
As Ellen G. White reminds us,
"We have nothing to fear for the future, except as we shall forget the way the Lord has led us, and
His teaching in our past history."
(Life Sketches, p. 196).
May God continue to bless and prosper your ministry for His glory.

Congratulations
NORTHEASTERN CONFERENCE

The Greater New York Conference extends heartiest congratulations to our sister conference, The Northeastern Conference of Seventh-day Adventists on your 80th Anniversary and Honors Gala.
May God continue to bless you abundantly.
